

The Koku-Jieitai conducted exercise Musashi-21, comprehensive field training exercise of the Air Defense Command

---

Prior to Japan Self-Defense Forces' Joint Exercise (JX), the Koku-Jieitai conducted exercise Musashi-21, comprehensive field training exercise of the Air Defense Command, from 10 to 23 November.

During this exercise, the Koku-Jieitai sought to maintain and enhance the capability of its aircraft and other units to deploy swiftly by conducting rapid deployment training to airfields with limited logistical support facility. In addition, the Koku-Jieitai conducted disaster-preparedness exercise in conjunction with local municipalities of remote islands in Kagoshima Prefecture and enhanced the ability to respond to natural disasters in remote islands.

Through various training, the Koku-Jieitai will continue to enhance the ability of its units to conduct missions.

