

On May 18 , Major General Hiroaki SAKANASHI, Director General of the Defense Planning and Policy Department, Air Staff Office, virtually attended the Space Operations Summit, hosted by Defence IQ, a UK defense events company, and gave a presentation.

This meeting offered a platform for NATO and its partners to discuss policies and strategies in the space domain, as well as international cooperation and deterrence.

In his speech, Major General Sakanashi introduced Japan's space security policy and the Koku-Jieitai (JASDF)'s initiatives, enhancing mutual understanding among the participants.

Koku-Jieitai will continue its effort to ensure the stable and safe use of the space domain, and will promote defense cooperation and exchanges in order to realize Free and Open Indo-Pacific in cooperation with its allies and partners.

