

Defense cooperation and exchange program with Vietnam Air Defense - Air Force (Invitation to Japan)

From September 12 to 15, Koku-Jieitai (Japan Air Self-Defense Force) held an invitation program with Vietnam Air Defense - Air Force personnel to share knowledge in the field of air rescue. In addition to exchanging views between the Japan and Vietnam air services and sharing expert knowledge on air rescue with each other, Koku-Jieitai conducted training tour on relevant facilities and equipment at Hyakuri Air Rescue Squadron (Hyakuri Air Base) and Rescue Training Squadron (Komaki Air Base) for Vietnam Air Defense - Air Force personnel.

This project aims to contribute to upholding and reinforcing Free and Open Indo-Pacific through sharing knowledge on air rescue with Vietnam Air Defense - Air Force.

Koku-Jieitai will continue to proactively contribute to the peace and stability of the region and the international community.

