

Unit to unit exchanges with the Philippine Air Force

From December 6 to 8, the Koku-Jieitai (Japan Air Self-Defense Force) sent two F-15 fighters and personnel of Air Defense Command to the Clark Air Base, Philippines and conducted unit to unit exchanges with the Philippine Air Force. This is the first time that the Koku-Jieitai's fighter visits ASEAN region.

The unit exchange is aimed at promoting mutual understanding and developing defense cooperation and exchanges with the Philippine Air Force. We shared each other's professionalism and expertise, deepening mutual understanding and confidence.

In order to contribute to upholding and reinforcing the Free and Open Indo-Pacific, the Koku-Jieitai and the Philippine Air Force will promote concrete measures and engage with the regional and international peace and stability in even more proactive manner, with our strong friendships we have deepened in various fields.

Formation flight with the Philippine Air Force FA-50

Group photo with the Philippine Air Force

Briefing

Commemorative Painting