

Participation to the WPS Symposium hosted by USARJ

From March 6 to 8, the Koku-Jieitai (Japan Air Self-Defense Force) participated in the WPS(Women, Peace and Security) Symposium hosted by USARJ at Camp Zama.

At the symposium, the participants conducted opinion exchange and group discussion regarding initiatives concerning the active participation and promotion of women in each organization, and participants shared their understanding of the current situation and challenges, and discussed future initiatives.

Through this symposium, the Koku-Jieitai will further promote future Japan-U. S. cooperation in this field, and at the same time, will promote efforts to create an environment in which female personnel can play more active roles.
