

JASDF-US Army Bilateral Training in the Air Defense Missile Shooting Practice(ASP)

On November 4, Koku-Jieitai (Japan Air Self-Defense Force) conducted a bilateral live-firing in the Air Defense Missile Shooting Practice, with US Army at the McGregor Range, New Mexico, US.

Western Air Defense Missile Group (Koku-Jieitai) and 11th Air Defense Artillery Brigade (US Army) conducted this training in close cooperation while mutually sharing information needed for the firing, and thereby enhanced Japan-U. S. bilateral response capabilities.

Koku-Jeitai will further strengthen our deterrence and response capabilities against various types of missile threats to our country with US Army. We will continue to commit to maintaining and enhancing skills and proficiency through daily training.
