

ISR Unit Level Exchange with Royal New Zealand Air Force

On May 8, Koku-Jieitai (Japan Air Self-Defense Force) conducted unit level exchange with the Royal New Zealand Air Force (RNZAF) on Naha Air Base, which leads the air defense of southwest region, including sharing views on ISR (Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance) activities.

Koku-Jieitai welcomes RNZAF's commitment to the region and continuously pursue deepening the mutual understanding as well as strengthening the cooperation with RNZAF in order to realize Free and Open Indo-Pacific (FOIP).

